UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 29.—Martial law was declared today by Governor Gifford Pinchot in the strife-torn coal fields of Fayette
county.

The proclamation followed
a night of telegraphic exchanges between the governor and Sheriff Harry E.
Hackney of Fayette county,
in which the chief executive
demanded the sheriff remove his deputies and permit state troopers to patrol
the strike areas and the sheriff refused flatly.

First Martial Law Since 1902

HARRISBURG, July 29.—
Martial law was declared in Pennsylvania today for the first time since 1902, according to attaches of the governor's office.

In that year Gov. William
A. Stone sent troops into the anthracite field to quell disorder caused by a mine strike.

Once again a local resident re-

GOVERNOR OUTLINES MARTIAL LAW PROGRAM

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 29.—Governor Gifford Pinchot today issued a formal proclamation declaring martial law in Fayette county.
Jointly with the proclamation he released a statement of his purpose and intentions. It read as follows:
"I have sent the national guard into the strike region to restore order and to see that the constitution and laws of Pennsylvania are respected. I have instructed the guard to protect all citizens in their constitutional rights and to suppress all violence, whether it comes from operators, deputy sheriffs or miners.
"The miners have the right to organize, to picket peacefully and to assemble in meetings. The supreme court and the President recognize these rights.
"The mine operators have the right to protection of their property.
The laws of Pennsylvania recognize this right.
"The national guard will protect the rights of miners, mine operators and citizens generally. It is impartial and will remain so.
"I call upon all good citizens to co-operate with it in restoring peace and good order in Fayette county."

Rentz Named To Head Recovery Movement Here

Is Unanimously Selected As Chairman Of Lawrence
County Committee

ORGANIZATION TO BE PICKED LATER

Business, Industrial And Labor Leaders Pledge Support By Presence

Fred L. Rentz, president of the Lawrence County Recovery Committee, was unanimously chosen chairman of the Lawrence county
committee of the national recovery administration, following a dinner meeting in The Castleton Friday evening, when representatives
of business, industry and labor from every section of the county met to inaugurate
plans for speeding the President's program in Lawrence
county.

The meeting had been called by a committee, representing local business interests, following the receipt of a telegram last week by Alfred W. Chilton, secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, asking that an organization be formed
here to assist in carrying forward
the movement for recovery which started when President Roosevelt
was inaugurated last March.

Selection Unanimous
Mr. Rentz's selection was received with great enthusiasm by the huge throng which overflowed the dining room at The Castleton, and he was given a great ovation when he stepped to the chairman's seat.

This morning, he stated that the honor which had been bestowed upon him was an unexpected and overwhelming one. He had not attended the dinner and had come to the meeting afterwards, just as the rest
had done, to find out what the program, advocated by the Administration, contained.

Following the demonstration of those at the meeting, he stated that he could not refuse to accede to the wishes of such a group and expects to carry out the duties the office
imposes with every ounce of his ability.
He stated that he will proceed carefully in the program as soon as

To Appeal From Report Against Canal Project

Opinions Of Noted River En-

ARMY ENGINEERS SAY COST TOO MUCH

Backers Of Ohio River-Lake
Erie Canal Will Now
Redouble Efforts

Steps are being taken to appeal
from the decision of the St. Louis division office of the United States
Board of Engineers, who returned an unfavorable report on the canal-ization of the Beaver and Mahoning rivers between Rochester and Struthers, O., today.

Secretary Alfred W. Chilton of the Beaver, Mahoning & Shenango
Rivers Improvement association
stated today that several outstanding engineers of the United States
experienced in river construction projects, had previously surveyed the project and declared it feasible.

Their opinions, along with weighty protest from all the industrial firms
in the Beaver and Mahoning valleys,
will be presented to the United States Board of Army Engineers for Rivers and Harbors in the near future. An opportunity to present an appeal from the decision of the board within four weeks has been presented by the board.

Cost Too Great
Among the principal reasons cited
in the report as unfavorable to construction, were the magnitude of bridge alterations necessary to effect the improvements, limited
widths, meagre water supply, encroachment of industry, steep slopes
and the concentration of rail facilities in the district.

In addition to the principal unfavorable report, a supplementary report was filed, dealing with the

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Free
from care and official duties for at least a week-end, President Roose-

day vacation at his Hyde Park, N.
Y., home.

Mr. Roosevelt intends that his Hyde Park stay shall be only par-

drop all his cares for the week-end, beginning with his arrival today. In the meantime, his secretary, Marvin H. McIntyre, was busying himself
setting up offices in Poughkeepsie,
four miles from the president's Hyde Park place.

On Monday there will be operat-

though the list of official callers will be small, Mr. Roosevelt intends to get considerable work out of the way. He was due in Hyde Park at 9 a. m., where a squadron of state troopers on motorcycles was waiting
to escort him to his home.

Nearly $49,000 Paid In County Taxes Friday

With $48,810.69 County taxes paid
yesterday, County Treasurer, William O. Pitts reports that it was the best day's collections this year. On Thursday, collections amounted to over $24,000.

Indications are that to-day's collections will be heavy, as there was a great rush at the treasurer's office
this morning. The office was full of taxpayers and they were lined up
back into the hall.

To-day will probably be the high point of collections for this year. At least more individual tax accounts
will be settled, whether the amount paid it will be greater than yesterday remains to be seen.

This eleven-hour rush is due to the fact that Monday is the last day
on which taxpayers can save the discount of five per cent. During the month of August, taxes must be paid at their face. On September 1st, they go into the hands of the collector.

The money which is being paid in
is badly needed to meet the running expenses of the county. Payment of recent bonds and interest, left the treasury almost bare.

FEAR NEW TONG WAR IN NEW YORK

Murder Occurs In Chinatown

Many Police Thrown Into District In Fear Of New Outbreak

SHOOTING OCCURS FROM AMBUSH

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 29.—Tripled police and detective forces were thrown into New York's Chinatown today as another bloody Tong war loomed in the wake of the ambush murder of Wing Ging, 40, early today in "dead man's bend" in Doyers street.

Ging was ambushed as he mounted a stairway of a six-story tenement in the heart of Chinatown. His assassin, who lay in wait at the second landing, pumped seven bullets into his body and fled.

Two policemen, hearing the shots, rushed to the scene. They found Lee Bo, 46, said to be a member of the Hip Sing Tong, running from the building where Ging was ambushed. He was arrested on a charge of suspicion.

The outline of what the Administration expects, is received here, and that the organization to carry out the work will be perfected as required.

Representative Crowd
More than a hundred representative industrial, business, civic, and labor leaders from all sections of the county were in attendance at the meeting last evening, and pledged their support to the program which might be advanced in the great emergency which President Roosevelt has declared, now exists.

They were present to give their support and further any movement which will continue the spread of employment, increase wages and improve general conditions.

Alfred W. Chilton, secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, presided at the meeting, and outlined the progress toward recovery which has been made to date. He stated that the Administration has provided the ground work, and the enabling legislation to go forward and has now asked every community in the United States to help in speeding the program onward, this being the purpose for which the meeting was called.

When a call for nomination of a chairman of the permanent committee for Lawrence County was made, the name of Fred L. Rentz was presented by Marcus Feuchtwanger and was seconded by a number of persons, while immediately the demand that nominations be closed was voiced. His election was declared with a vociferous roar of acclamation.

Mr. Rentz, in accepting stated that he felt that there were many present in the room who could fill the position just as well or better than himself. He stated that he was in hearty sympathy with the movement and felt that the committee would face one of the greatest tasks that any organization had ever been called upon to face.

"It would be a traitor to this cause to say any more against this unanimous selection," Mr. Rentz declared. "The organization is a fit and proper one at this time, and I am ready to serve you as you see fit. All I ask is that everyone be in readiness to cooperate and do his part. I hope when we disband at the end of the effort that everything will be all right, and jokingly, that we will be Democrats."

PREPARING TO START HEARING ON STEEL CODE

ever, was eagerly awaited both by employers and labor leaders seeking to establish a precedent to govern all codes in the future.

Labor Issue Drawn
In a far-reaching decision affecting blanket codes, the recovery administration held that union employers must adjust their contracts to comply with the blanket code before receiving the administration's approval.

Here, too, another labor issue was sharply drawn. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared that labor would fight lowering of wages through the installation of the 35 and 40 hours week provided in the blanket code.

The national recovery administration, in another effort to boost wages, ruled that employers cannot use "jokers" to comply with the minimum wage provisions of the blanket code.

Reduction of the pay of employees now above the minimum to make up for the expense in raising lower paid workers would be a clear violation of the purpose of the codes, legal advisers of the administration held.

Need Adjustment
At the same time, where exceptionally long hours now prevail in a given employer's group, and curtailing those hours to the standard now asked by the president means either too great a loss to the employer, or too much of a drain on his employer because of necessary increased pay for shorter hours, "equitable adjustments" are provided for.

These adjustments are left to the employer, but a legal aide added, "if the employer's sense of justice proves a little eccentric, we might have to interpret it for him."

Thus, in the case of workers on a 40-hour week basis, whose hours are reduced to 35, an increase of one-seventh in the hourly rate would continue to give the worker the same pay he had been receiving.

In case of workers on a 60-hour week, whose time is cut to 35 hours, an increase of one-seventh might be either insufficient to give the worker the same pay he had received, or it might be too burdensome on his employer. In such cases the "equitable readjustment" rule would be effective.

Not Included

The following occupations it was announced are not intended to be covered by the reemployment agreement:

Professional occupations.
Federal, state, local government and public institutional employees.
Agricultural labor.
Domestic servants.

Persons buying goods and selling independently, or persons selling solely on commissions, except persons regularly employed to sell on commission with a base salary or guaranteed compensation, who do come within the terms of the agreement.

Railroads are included in the terms of the agreement, it was stated, and are affected by the act like any other industry.

The question of whether newspaper men are considered "professional" was left open, it was said. No contracts are affected by the agreement.

STATE TROOPS TO TAKE CHARGE AT UNIONTOWN

more than two pickets from gathering at the same place.

Operations in the mines was virtually at a standstill this morning. Estimates of the number of men out on strike varied from 7,000 to 12,000 with a compromise figure of 10,000 believed to be nearer accurate.

Not Unexpected.

The proclamation of martial law was not unexpected. Gov. Pinchot for several days had tried to effect the "Lansdale agreement" to maintain order in Fayette county. Under this plan, so-called because it was first used at Lansdale in a textile strike, sheriff's deputies were permitted from the strike area to permit state troopers to handle the situation.

Hackney flatly refused to agree to this plan, although other parties interested were said to have been ready to cooperate with the governor. Gov. Pinchot telegraphed Hackney again last night asking that he capitulate and the sheriff refused again. The proclamation followed.

No troops were reported in the strike field this morning.

Guardmen Leave Camp.

CAMP RICKARDS, MT. GRETNA, Pa., July 29.—More than 300 national guardmen equipped with machine guns, rifles, chemical weapons and field packs rumbled out of camp today by automobile and train to take charge in the strike-torn soft coal area.

Fourteen official automobiles from Harrisburg carried the advance detail of 60 men and the remainder of the guardmen boarded a Pennsylvania railroad train shortly after 7:30 o'clock. The second battalion of the 112th infantry under Major Kenneth W. Momeyer drew the assignment. Practically all the men assigned are from the Erie armory.

In the dispatched second battalion were companies E, F, G and H. Company H is a machine gun unit.

Medical Unit Included.

Attached was a medical unit under First Lieut. Nicholas A. Marinaro of Butler. There was also a service company detachment under First Lieut. Herford M. Wood of Ridgway. The men have been in training here for a week.

Two state highway patrolmen on motorcycles led the motorcade of 14 cars in a rush trip to Uniontown.

Maj. Gen. E. C. Shannon, lieutenant-governor and head of the 28th division, received the order to send guardmen into Fayette county from Gov. Gifford Pinchot by telephone. The assigned men lined up in the company streets and received their instructions. Several men boarded an automobile for Harrisburg and returned with the official cars.

The others were taken in trucks from the camp grounds to the railroad station.

Refuses State Police Offer.

HARRISBURG, July 29.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot ordered national guardmen to Uniontown when Sheriff Harry Hackney of Fayette county refused by telephone another proposition that state police take charge of the strike situation, the governor declared today.

Governor Pinchot was at his home in Milford. His office at the capitol released this statement which he telephoned here:

"Having learned from press sources that Sheriff Hackney had wired me refusing my offer to take charge of the strike area, and thus prevent violence, I called him up about 2 o'clock this morning and laid this definite proposition before him:

"If he would make way for the state by taking out his deputies, whose handling of the strike has already led to so much violence I would send the police in at once in sufficient force to maintain order. If he would not, I would send the national guard. The sheriff refused to withdraw his deputies and I have ordered in the guard."

COMMISSIONERS TELL WHY TRAFFIC LANES WERE MADE ON BRIDGE

moving loads but the dead loads on the structure have been increased. First came the double street car tracks, and street cars, the weight of which increased year after year. Then came the Public Utilities, placing gas mains, water mains, overhead power lines, telegraph cables and the present day heavy type of automobile truck and bus.

"The original floor consisted of one ply of wood plank. Later this floor became inadequate and it was replaced by adding additional beams to support a floor consisting of three inch plank and three inch wood block. When the floor was removed recently it was found that in repairing this floor another two inches of material had been added.

"About twenty years ago concrete encasement was placed on the truss posts. This repair was a detriment to the structure in that it allowed water to pass between the iron and concrete which caused rusting of the trusses on rollers. At the time West Washington street was repaved concrete was poured tight against the iron work. This stopped all action in the rollers and caused certain members of the bridge to buckle.

"In planning repairs on the bridge all these conditions had to be taken into consideration. All the different members were measured to determine how much of the original metal had rusted away. This was found to be from 5 per cent to 50 per cent. With this data, the bridge was analyzed to carry a new floor on which was to travel three lines of traffic. Next the amount of steel and work necessary to make the bridge safe was calculated. Estimates on this plan were $35,000 which was much in excess of the money available.

"The estimated cost of a new bridge is about $160,000. To build a structure of this size at the present time, it would be necessary for the county to borrow the entire amount. A loan of this amount would probably cost $12,000 to $15,000 a year in carrying charges. With this in mind $15,000 was placed in the budget made up last January for repairing this bridge. If repairs could be made to carry traffic safely for this amount, they would be made as a temporary measure, and if the structure could be replaced at the end of two years, the county would have saved an amount equal to the cost of the repairs. When bids were received on the work, it was well within the estimated cost, being $12,989.00. To keep the repair price within the budget figure of $15,000, it was necessary to eliminate one lane of traffic.

"To save the excessive cost of repairing the heavy girders which support the floor, one lane of traffic was placed adjacent to each truss. The reason for placing the lanes in such a position can be seen by the fact that a light plank placed with a support under each end will easily carry a man's weight next to the support, but will break when his weight is placed in the middle.

"The next consideration was the width of the lanes. This was made 9'-0" or 10'8" which has been adopted by the American Association of State Highway Officials as the minimum width. The maximum width of motor vehicles is set by law at 9'6".

"Due to the excessive wear on the floor by wheels being concentrated in one place, a newly developed floor was selected. This floor is extremely light in weight, being only three inches thick. The steel of which it is made extends to the top of the concrete forming traffic bars. These bars form an armored surface which takes the greater portion of the wear, besides forming a skid-proof riding surface.

"The curb and rail separating the lanes from the center portion are designed to withstand a blow of 70,000 lbs. from the top of the rail without breaking.

"The portion between the lanes is to be covered with planking. At each end of the bridge the center portion will be closed to traffic by a circular concrete wall extending about three feet above the road surface, and painted in a checker-board design of black and white, and appropriately marked.

"When completed the structure will safely carry the heaviest load allowable on the highways, which is a twenty-ton truck.

"The work is being done as a temporary measure, until such a time as the final condition of the county will justify another procedure. The whole work is being done to give a maximum of safety to the traveling public with a minimum expenditure of the taxpayers' money."

Girl Sees Accident

In her story to state highway police Miss Gretch stated that she had been on her way home from Ellport when not far ahead of her she noticed Miss Braden and Mr. Bianco walking in the same direction. She proceeded to catch up with them and walk the remaining distance to her home on Fourth avenue, together, since she was acquainted with both parties. The three had been walking in the direction of Ellwood mid-way between the borough line and Burnstown stop where there is a small curve, the three observed the lights of a car coming in their direction from the rear. Instinctively they all moved to the left. Miss Braden and Miss Gretch had been completely off the pavement and Mr. Bianco was just on the edge she said. Miss Gretch was the furthest away.

The car, according to Miss Gretch had suddenly swerved from the right side of the road to the left and ran into Mr. Bianco and Miss Braden. Miss Gretch was not touched by the crash. She stated that Miss Braden was knocked down and swept to the side of the road. Mr. Bianco was carried with the car for some distance.

An official investigation by Patrolmen Clarke and Musser of the local police, early this morning revealed that the body of Bianco had lain five feet from the edge of the road after the accident. Its distance from the borough line was 425 feet. The distance between both bodies was 44 feet. The left shoe of Miss Braden was found some 17 feet from her body.

Coroner Potter stated that no charges will be preferred until after the inquest which will be announced later.

The young dead man is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Bianco of Perry street, this city, two sisters, Margaret and Mary Bianco, and one brother, John, all at home.

Besides her parents, the deceased girl leaves one sister.

Funeral services for Miss Braden will be held on Monday afternoon at 2:30 from her home in North street. Interment will take place in Grandview Cemetery, Beaver Falls. She was born, raised, and educated in this city, having moved to this city with her parents about two years ago.

The funeral arrangements for Mr. Bianco are incomplete and will be announced later.

Appearing pleased over the automobile code, for which he made a special trip to Detroit, the general said he was anxious to get back to Washington to complete the other codes.

Gen. Johnson was asked if he had seen the national code, which was filed late yesterday in Washington. "Have I seen the code?" he replied, "gosh, that's all I have seen in the past few days."

"What do I think of it? Oh, it's still up here," he added, waving his hand above his head.

"There probably will be some difficulty with the miners about it, but we'll take care of that," he said. "That's one of the things I want to get busy on when I get back to Washington."

The administrator said he had not seen the rubber code as yet.

In his talk to the Cleveland audiences, Johnson said that "we have a right to state that the recovery plan is working."

"This automobile code should bring many of you back to work at higher wages than you ever before received," he added.

head, one on the forehead and two in the back. She also had a broken left leg and was extensively bruised and cut. She never regained consciousness.

An intensive investigation of the fatality was made by local police. County Coroner Orville Potter and Corp. L. J. Lawton and Patrolman W. E. Stoop of the state highway patrol of New Castle. Alken is being held under $1,000 bond. It is expected to be furnished sometime today. Alken was immediately arrested following the accident by Patrolman Edwin Clarke and K. M. Musser, of the local police force.

Driver Tells Story

The stories of Alken's and the only other eye witness to the affair, Miss Gretch of this city, somewhat conflict. According to Alken's version of the fatality to Corp. Lawton and Highway Patrolman Stoops, he was enroute to this city from Ellport. The first that he knew that something was wrong, was when he caught a momentary glance of four people walking abreast on the Wurttemberg highway. In an instant his machine had run directly into them, he said. He brought his car to a stop to render assistance. He placed the girl in his car and rushed her to the local hospital. Alken stated that a passing motorist arrived on the scene shortly after the accident and had placed the other person in his car before he could come to his assistance and took him to the hospital.

Alken's car was damaged by the impact and was unable to negotiate the hill leading to the hospital. Rick Rocco, who was the passing motorist, was returning from the hospital and again came to his assistance by placing the girl in his car for the short incline to the hospital.

When questioned by Corp. Lawton if his lights were good, Alken answered in the affirmative. He said 70,000 lbs. of persons on the highway until too late.

He found the troop and the mounts in fine condition and well versed in the duties of the cavalry unit, and expects them to make a most creditable showing when the annual encampment at Mt. Gretna opens for them on August 19.

The troop has been practicing cavalry drill regulations faithfully during the past few months, and are now at a stage of near perfection in their drill and maneuvers.

The troop will entrain for camp Friday evening, August 18, arriving at Mt. Gretna the following day to begin their tour of duty.

Police To Halt Street Parking Near Cascade

Parking Plot At Park Must Be Used By Motorists Says Police Chief

Numerous complaints have been reaching the police department concerning the habit of many motorists parking on East Washington street near Cascade Park, rather than take advantage of the adequate and very reasonable parking facilities of the park, according to Chief of Police John F. Haven.

The result is that unless the public co-operates in the matter and refrains from parking on the street at this point the police will take the matter in hand and impose fines.

The statement of the chief follows: "The appearance of East Washington street near Cascade Park looks as if there were inadequate parking facilities in the park itself. The traffic conditions near the park have always been a problem, which the park commission apparently considered by reducing the parking privilege to 10 cents, certainly not a prohibitive expense. The parking fee, small as it is, does provide revenue which is used to defray the expenses of administering the park operation. Parking along the street thus becomes not merely a nuisance, but actually handicaps the park commission in its work of making Cascade Park of greatest benefit to the people."

"The people who park on Washington street and also patronize the park fail to comprehend that the parking fee makes it possible for them to enjoy the privilege of the park."

"The police department has refrained so far from imposing unnecessary hardships in connection with the problem, but the time has now come when effective co-operation must be forthcoming from the public or the necessity for invoking every agency at our command to correct the condition will become imperative."

COAST GUARDS SEEK DROWNED GIRLS BODY

MERCER, Pa., July 29.—A detail of coast guards of the U. S. Navy under the command of Lieutenant Commander Rasmussen arrived at Conneaut Lake Friday afternoon to take up the search for the body of Veronica Baker, 21, of Greenville drowned July 21.

The men were secured through the interest of Congressman T. C. Cochran of Mercer, representing the Twentieth Congressional District. They brought with them boats and special equipment for doing the work and will remain until the body is recovered.

They communicated with Cochran from Erie enroute to the lake where they will begin work at once.

BEAUTY CONTESTS

THIS has proved a great reason for beauty contests, and the end is not yet. The picture section of almost every Sunday paper is decorated with pictures of prize-winning beauties. And few are the week-day issues that are not generously sprinkled with cuts of aspirants to coveted first-place distinction.

While average male readers will be disposed to concede that all such fair claimants to exceptional pulchritude are restful to the eye and worth a lingering look, few of them will be inclined to admit that the lovely faces at which they look are near as lovely as certain faces that they carry photographed in their hearts. To almost every man one woman is more beautiful than all others. She may not have perfect features. Her coloring may be far from exquisite. Her hair may not be up to date. But, to him, she is beyond compare. Therefore average men are unwilling to take the opinion of mere judges as to relative merit of the claims of beauty contestants of superiority. They are pretty enough, but as for being the most beautiful—well, the average man, being gallant by nature, would prefer not to say.

And there is the average woman. Can the aspirants to beauty honors, or the winners of them, for that matter, expect to get by that critic? Not much. What average woman would grant that the gleaming beauties who smile at them from pictured pages are unsurpassable? Not one. This critic might concede that the prize winners are fair—except for blemishes from which the average woman who is doing the talking thinks she is free.

Pride of locality also confuses judgment on this matter. Would any dweller on the Atlantic seaboard concede that the prize-winning beauties of Pacific slope surpass those of the East? Of course not. Would inhabitants of Podunk grant that the blue-ribbon beauty of Washington outshines any one of a dozen maidens in their home-town? And, again, of course not. Beauty contests may be counted on to bring out an array of beautiful maids that would gladden the heart of any average man and fill that of the average woman with something approaching envy. But as for the deciding anything—well, hardly.

FINDING JOBS FOR IDLE

A rapid cutting down of the number of persons on relief rolls throughout the country is the purpose of the plan announced by Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins for transferring recipients of relief to the payrolls of public works projects.

The chief aim of the public works program is to provide work for the unemployed. For the purpose of speeding up this process, Mr. Hopkins announced that "a vital coordinating link" between the federal emergency relief administration and the United States employment service would be established. The United States employment service will provide the contract between public works projects and the state and other local offices of the emergency relief administration.

Approximately 4,000,000 heads of families now are on relief rolls, it was disclosed. The federal relief administrator expressed the belief that large numbers of these soon would be restored to a self-supporting status.

State officials in charge of relief and employment services already have begun their cooperation in the effort to find jobs on relief projects for the unemployed.

The public works program has been a little slow in getting started. More rapid progress from now on, however, can be looked for. Allotment of funds is proceeding on a rising scale with the prospect that within a few more weeks construction work will be increasing in all parts of the country. This is an encouraging outlook.

WIPING OUT THE POSTAL DEFICIT

If it be literally true that Postmaster General Farley has practically wiped out the enormous deficit which confronted him when he assumed office, he has performed a most remarkable achievement. In March the deficit was placed at $153,000,000. Special Assistant Ambrose O'Connell, of the department, in an address is quoted as saying: "Through his unusual executive and administrative ability Mr. Farley has, within the space of a few short months, almost entirely wiped out this colossal deficit and placed the federal postal service upon a self-sustaining basis."

This is so astonishing that nearly everybody will be interested in the details of how it was brought about. It is not the first time that a postmaster general has announced that he has succeeded in accomplishing this long-sought-after result. It has been the ambition of nearly every one of them to do that very thing. But when the claims of some of Mr. Farley's predecessors were checked up it was found that they were based upon systems of bookkeeping that were too deep for the understanding of the average citizen.

Yet there is no good reason why the postal service should not be self-sustaining. Even the skeptical will be delighted if the latest claim is justified. It was never intended that the Post office department should be a money-making branch of the government. Its purpose is to serve the people and to assist in the diffusion of knowledge. But it ought to be self-supporting.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

FIRST TOWN TO QUIT RELIEF WORK

The first town in Pennsylvania to discontinue emergency relief work is said to be Mount Union in Huntingdon county. Revival of industry in three large brick plants there reduced the welfare list from 400 families to thirty-two. Since the latter were county cases, the relief committee has voted its own dissolution.

This is no small achievement for the community to attain. In the present-day rivalry of towns for each to emblazon its particular claim to fame on guideboards along the motor highways, Mount Union might appropriately boast of its primacy in checking the depression. The augury is of more than local effect. Demand for building materials indicates a reconstruction program which is basic to widespread prosperity.

IT'S AN INSIDE JOB
A CRIME has been committed.
A string of pearls has been stolen.
Or a man has been killed.
Great excitement. Fear. Grief.
Mystery.... Call the police!
The police arrive. A detective walks casually around the house.
Examines the safe. Or looks at the body. Checks all the doors and windows. Talks to people. Looks puzzled or wise. Scratches his head.
Makes notes.... Tells a reporter it is an "inside job." Nobody from outside got in. Somebody inside did
it. An inside job, made to look as if it were an outside job.... Just as easy as that.... Nothing to do but find the guilty man.

Well, that's the way things are.
If a man's unhappy, if he has lost
his joy in life, if he feels insecure
and miserable, if he doesn't know what to do with himself, ninety-nine times out of a hundred it's an inside job. He has lost his happiness because he didn't know how to keep
it. He has fixed his faith, foolishly,
on something outside of himself.
He is broken because he failed to shore up spirit against the countless pressures from without. If his treasure is gone, he may be certain
it was an Inside Job.

Do I mean that every man is solely responsible for his own losses, his own happiness, and can blame no one else if he is in misery?

Not exactly, and yet I have seen some men bear up bravely without whimpering under burdens that crush their fellows. I have seen a woman who might have shrieked
her grief to the winds smile serenely
and go her way without a sign of pain.

I have seen these things and always I have known that for them
their victory over circumstances is an Inside Job. Out of triumph or disaster, some people make a great victory. They know that life, the way we live it, the way we endure
it, the position we take, the manner
in which we receive its blows and its caresses, is always an Inside Job.

So I envy them and wish that I might be as they are when the blow falls taking the blame, accepting the fact that my happiness is my own job.

OLD FRIENDS AND NEW

"There are no friends like the old friends," none will dispute it.
But in moving from one place to another there should be an effort
made to cultivate new friends.

Those who never move from the old home do not realize what it means to lose contact with familiar friends and scenes, and they can forget those who go.

But those who leave home and
dear friends never forget the home
folk.

Very often there is genuine mourning in the heart of one who goes to live in a strange village or city, and consequently no effort to get acquainted.

The result is loneliness.
Usually there is discontent and complaints that business or other necessity should have required a move.

The whole attitude being antagonistic to new friends, few are attracted.

If you want friends you must show
a friendly spirit.
Mingle with people in the churches, the clubs, lodges, or societies
to which you may find access and come in contact with people.

If you show a disposition to be friendly, some will go halfway or more.

Don't blame the city for being cold or aloof when you yourself are
to blame.

RESTORATION

We're getting back our confidence!
We're coming out of gloom!
We're working in the gardens where
the flowers of summer bloom!
We've had our fit of dreading, and
we're on the road again.
To the better days before us and the old-time faith in men.

We're getting back our courage! We have struggled and we've failed.
We have seen our treasures vanish;
we've been bitterly assailed;
But our heads are high this morning
and in field and shop and mart.

There is good old rugged honor,
with the brave old fighting
heart.

We're getting back our mettle; you can sense it everywhere
There's a surging of the spirit
against the sweeping tide of care.

Now we're done with dismal doubt-

low.

Educational Policy Debated
As Chicago Reduces Budget

Value Of Junior High Schools And Of Specialized Work
Considered In Public Comments On Big Reduction In Expenditures

National attention is attracted by the educational problem in Chicago,
where, after a spectacular experience with unpaid teachers, the board of education has slashed several millions from the school budget. Discussion is particularly directed to the ruling against junior high schools, which have been widely adopted throughout the country.

Among those journals which deplore the abandonment of the junior high school system is the PRO-VIDENCE JOURNAL, which, in a discussion of the effect of the Chicago economies, declares: "There are 'frills' which have been introduced into the educational system in recent years which might well be eliminated or sharply curtailed in a community which is shockingly in arrears in the payment of teachers'
salaries, but the junior high school system is not a frill, even though in some instances it has led to the establishment of extravagant super-fluities. To abandon, even temporarily, the entire system where it has become a well-rooted, integral part of the scholastic course is a backward step deplorable in the extreme.
The result in Chicago is that 47,895
junior high school pupils and 1,385
teachers will be returned to seventh and eighth grade and first-year high school classes. If this means that there will be no reactionary changes
in the modernized curriculum, the effect will not be so bad, but it is difficult to see how there can be any material economy without closing the junior high school buildings and crowding the nearly 50,000 teachers
and pupils into other school structures."

"Chicago's tax troubles," in the opinion of the YAKIMA DAILY RE-PUBLIC, "are due in no small part
to the inordinate costs of public education. These are to be reduced;
and one of the ways in which economy will be practiced is to put the skids under the junior high schools.
On fads and frills sent to the discard, of which the junior highs are one, Chicago will save millions of dollars a year. A parental school was abolished; athletic coaches were dismissed. There are a lot of ways to practice this economy stunt in the schools if school management
cares to look for them."

"The budget shows," according to the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, "that hereafter, at least for some time, the city will have no junior high schools,
no school for backward children,
only 30 per cent of its kindergarten
no athletic coaches, only half of its former physical instructors, no lunch
room supervisors, nor swimming courses, nor band leaders, nor manual training, nor home economics,
and that by these eliminations it will effect an economy in school administration of $4,000,000. So far as educational values are concerned,
this is not Chicago's century of progress; it is its century of reaction
and social retrenchment."

"Teachers' organizations, parents'
groups and others are protesting,"
remarks the SCRANTON TIMES,
with the comment: "The president of the school board, in explaining the economy program, said that the board was faced with three choices
—eliminating fads and frills, making heavy cuts in the salary of every school employe, or further shortening the term. To shorten the term below nine months would have been in violation of the state law. Teachers have already received a 15 per cent cut in their basic salary schedule. Under the circumstances, the board turned to the elimination of fads and frills and, we are told, proposes to go through with the economy program regardless of protests."

With commendation for "the practice of frugal and economical management," the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD offers the general description of the changes in Chicago education: "The effect of these economies is expected to re-establish the school board's credit, which has been pretty low with bankers and bond

WERE THEY DESECRATED?
You never know what gardeners
will do when fancy notions enter their heads.

There is a woman who had been to France and seen gardeners using "cloches," those glass bells, under which they force especially fine flowers and vegetables. She was determined to do the same, only her horticultural ambition struck a snag
when she realized that cloches
simply aren't to be had in this country.

She did the next best thing. She raided the china closet and over
each dear little plant set one of her husband's best cocktail glasses. For the taller ones she used his high-
ball glasses.

When that husband came home
later in the day, a man of huge thirst, and saw this desecration of his pet drinking equipment, he said things about gardening that we have no intention of repeating here.

Safe Driving
"Hint"By The National Safety
Council

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?
Honestly now, what's your hurry?
It is a desire to show off? Then you should be in the circus.

It is a desire to save a few minutes? If so, you are a poor gambler,
for you risk a life against the saving of those few minutes.

Excessive speed isn't fair. It isn't fair to yourself or your family. It isn't fair to other drivers who have
as much right on the highway as you have. It isn't fair to pedestrians who depend upon you to use good judgment.

Think of these things when you feel that desire to step on the gas cropping up. There is little to be gained by speeding, and much to lose.

Teachers College Graduates Class

Forty-Four Are Given Diplomas In Exercises Held This Morning

DR. THOMAS C. BLAISDELL
Head, English Department, State Teachers College at Slippery Rock.

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., July 29.—Dr. Thomas C. Blaisdell, professor of the teaching of English of the college, was the speaker at the commencement exercises of the State Teachers College at Slippery Rock this morning at 10:30, when forty-four students were graduated.

What does it mean to be educated? and who are the educated people? was the theme of the speaker's address. He defined an educated individual as "one who meets every problem of life with reasonable efficiency."

Measured by this definition, he found few people educated. "We fall short as individuals," he declared, "we fall short as citizens of our home cities, which is shown by the governments of Chicago and New York, of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. We fall as citizens of our state and citizens of our nation."

He pointed out the crime of child labor, the building of a larger navy and army despite the fact that we had signed a peace pact, the unregulated condition of industry, the old-time politician instead of the trained expert as a few of the results of the judgments of an educated people.

Dr. Blaisdell advocated the public to the place where it would create a Constitution easy to manipulate, where it would gain control of natural resources, levy fair taxes, allow a more equal distribution of wealth, live in friendship with other nations, and practice the religion of Jesus Christ.

buyers. It is anticipated that with this showing that it means to live within its income, the board can now sell bonds of 40 million dollars, pay its teachers up to date, clean up its current indebtedness and start with a clean slate, its deficit financed in a funded debt.

"Junior high school buildings can now be used for senior high school work, eliminating overcrowding," observes the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS, with the conclusion that "one familiar with the school situation in Chicago will criticize the board for its economy measures." The Argus also advises that "young people stand in need of vocational guidance, but that need, conceivably, can be supplied without bureau entangling large expense."

The WAUSAU RECORD-HERALD states: "The schools have gradually, during the past two decades, taken upon themselves many of the functions which used to devolve upon the parents of the school children. Perhaps the teachers do a better job of it, in many respects, than the average parents, but nevertheless, some of the things they've been trying to do for the school children are not properly within the realm of duty of the school teacher, but belong instead, to the home. Perhaps Chicago, because of dire necessity, may be able to set an example for other school boards which are sorely troubled because of the lack of funds."

"Chicago is taking it out of the schools and the children," says the SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) REPUBLICAN, and it recalls the reaction: "Despite the shocking financial condition of the school system, so drastic a curtailment of educational facilities has aroused keen opposition and bitter protest. The suspicion is prevalent among parents as well as teachers and educational leaders that the ruling politicians intend to make the curtailment permanent. A popular campaign with the slogan, 'Save our schools,' has been organized to start Chicago's second year of progress."

Criticism of the attitude of the board of education is voiced by the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS in the statement: "The deficit with which the board is dealing—estimated by John Rees at $8,000,000, and by the board at $10,000,000 to $11,000,000—is not all chargeable to this year, as the board implies, but has been accumulating for at least four years. This year's share of the deficit has been estimated at about $1,500,000. Cutting the instructional program is not, as alleged, the only way in which the 1933 deficit, or even the total accumulated deficit, could be met. The board ignores the possibility of considerable savings which, in spite of some economies made in business administration, are still possible and desirable in the care and operation of school plants. Those savings were recommended in the Strayer report. The board rejects the sound policy of spreading amortization of the accumulated deficit over a brief period of years and continuing on the shortened term schedule until the deficit is made good. It chooses to disorganize a progressive system, carefully built up and articulated, and to impoverish the curriculum rather than save those essential values by a temporary reduction in operating time."

Staff Entering Girl Scout Camp Sunday Forenoon

Counsellors Will Have Two Days To Prepare For Opening Of Camp

OVER HUNDRED GIRLS GOING EARLY TUESDAY

In preparation for the reception of 115 lively Girl Scouts on Tuesday morning, the staff of counsellors under the directorship of Miss Evelyn Spencer of Toledo, O., will enter Camp John M. Phillips Sunday morning.

Miss Spencer is expected to arrive in New Castle tonight. She will be the guest of one of the local Girl Scout council members for the night. In the early morning she will make her headquarters, with the 24 appointed camp leaders, at the pretty nook alongside of Kennedy's Mills.

There is work to be done before the camp will be ready for the influx of the lassies in green. There are 15 tents to be erected, tables to be put in place, equipment to be installed and a smooth camp program to be set in motion. The heavy work will be turned over to the brawny muscles of the handymen, Herb Christian and Dick Pugh.

Coming from Sharon

Half of the next week's Girl Scout personnel will be from Sharon. The over 50 Sharon Girl Scouts will arrive by automobile before the noon dinner Tuesday and will share the camp facilities with the New Castle Girl Scout crew.

Mrs. W. H. Hanger, camp committee chairman, reports that there will be 117 girls at Camp Phillips during the second camping week, a large proportion of whom are those making up the first week's group.

Cots are steel, with steel springs, and without mattresses. The campers are advised to bring several old comforts to be used as mattresses. It has been found this is more satisfactory and less trouble than making straw ticks.

Follow Unit System

Camp activities will be carried on by the "unit" system, i. e., the girls are divided into various units according to ages and ranking in scouting. However, every day at noon all the girls, New Castle and Sharon, will meet together in the mess hall for dinner. The Pioneer and Gypsy units, members of which are older and more advanced Scouts, will cook their own breakfasts and suppers.

Nesbitt Candidate For County Office

New Castle Man Announces Candidacy For Register And Recorder

ELMER D. NESBITT

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF LAWRENCE COUNTY:

In announcing myself as a candidate for the Republican nomination to the office of Register and Recorder of Lawrence County, I do so with some understanding of the qualifications which a person seeking that office should possess.

I am a son of Robert H. Nesbitt, who, at the present time, owns and operates a farm in Neshannock Township, Lawrence County, where I was born and raised. I received my grammar school education in said Township, and graduated in the Commercial Course of the New Castle High school, in the class of 1916, and later studied accountancy.

I have had fifteen years experience in accounting work, two years with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and thirteen years as Order and Shipping Clerk at the Carnegie Steel Company, and also five months experience in the City Treasurer's Office of the City of New Castle.

I am married, have a family, consisting of my wife and two children, and reside at 412 Northview avenue, New Castle, Pa., and am, at the present time, buying my own home.

The salary of the Register and Recorder, and of all deputies and clerks is borne by the County of Lawrence, and if nominated and elected to this office, I pledge the voters of Lawrence County to operate said office economically and with as little expense to the County as is consistent with the proper discharge of the duties of the office. I will employ no more clerks in said office than are necessary.

I believe that by my education and experience, I am fitted to perform the duties of this office efficiently and for this reason, I wish to ask for your consideration and support.

I realize that the incomes of people engaged in all other lines of business and employment have been reduced and believe that public office holders should prove no exception.

I am not connected with any other candidate for public office or with any political group and am asking your support on the strength of my fitness for the office.

If you believe that I have the necessary qualifications to perform the duties of this office, I would appreciate your influence and support and if nominated and elected I pledge myself to an efficient and courteous administration of said office.

Respectfully submitted,
ELMER D. NESBITT,

Woman Secretary Of Labor Hears Mill Workers Complaints At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 29.—With a supply of first hand information on working conditions in Pittsburgh steel mills, Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, and first woman to hold a cabinet position in the United States, was in Baltimore today, continuing her study of working conditions in plants there.

Miss Perkins visited steel mills in the Homestead district here yesterday, and listened to the stories that mill workers had to tell.

Finding that police were barring some mill employees from their hearings in the borough hall because of their communist affiliations, Miss Perkins marched her aides across the street to the post office, and there in a crowded lobby full of sweating men in blue working shirts heard everybody who wanted to speak, including the communists.

Mushball League To Continue Play

Managers At Meeting Friday Night Vote To Extend League For Another Round

E. S. MERCHANTS LEAGUE LEADERS

East Side mushball league managers at their meeting held at the "Y" last night voted to extend the schedule of games for another round. The first schedule drawn for the league ends with the games to be played Monday.

The East Side Merchants team continues to hold the lead in the league with five victories and no defeats. The game between the Merchants and Oak A. C. played last night at Rose avenue ended in a 6 to 5 victory for the Merchants, but owing to a protest, the game will be played over. It seems that the spectators at the game interfered with the ball and the Oak A. C. lost a few runs by the interference.

Three New Players.

The managers made a few new rulings at their meeting held with President Charles P. Walther. The home teams will furnish the balls for play from this date on. The Oak A. C. team will try to obtain Dean park for its games. The St. Andrews team was awarded Abraham, the Young Yankees were given Norm Nocera and the Radiators were given Kalajainen.

RADIATORS WIN CONTEST

National Radiators mushball team took a league victory from the strong Croton Merchants at Radiator field. The score was 15 to 10. The game was featured by home runs hit by Franklin Grisel, Rubels, B. Kneram and Hilton. Croton used Isabella, Rubels and Bonfield in the box with the Radiators using Heasley and Mauri. The score by innings: R. H. E. Croton 001 113 030-12 3 3
Radiators 202 420 50-15 11 1

ST. ANDREWS WINS

Home runs were hit by Jones, and Owens. Owens homered in ninth inning with one out won the game. Babs and Rogers were the opposing pitchers. St. Andrews will play St. Nicholas at Gaston Park on Monday night. Score by innings: R. H. E. Spencers 003 002 300-8 12 2

Lenore Kight Is Confident

Homestead Girl Swimming Champion, Wants To Win Olympic Berth In 1936

By JAMES C. KINKAID
International News Service Sports Writer
HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 29.—Miss Lenore Kight, the Homestead girl who swims and sets records, wants to reach her peak form during the Olympic games in 1936, as a member of the American team.

This she told International News Service today in an interview. "I'm going to continue training every possible day from now until the Olympic games so that I will again be given an opportunity to become a member of the American team," she said. "Of course three years is a long time but I have my heart set on that goal and I think I'll gradually become a better and better swimmer during the next three years."

Is Only 20
All this from a young lady, she haltingly admits her age is 20, who already has scattered all the important free style swimming records. She cracked the first one last December in Florida.

"That gave me a thrill, a big one," Miss Kight said. "But it didn't compare with the kick I got out of the New York meet last week when I broke two free stroke marks and helped shatter a relay record." Asked how it feels to be a world champion, Miss Kight answered with a smile in her greenish-brown eyes and on her lips, and after a pause: "It feels swell, but, don't think for a moment that I'm ready to rest on my laurels. I want to break my own records, and when I do, I want them to be fast enough to last quite a while, maybe forever."

Senators Make Bid For Honors

Washington Two Games Out In Front Of Yankees

GIANTS LIKELY NATIONAL WINNERS

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, July 29.—With Washington two games in front of the Yankees and victorious in eight of their 11 games with the New Yorkers to date, the average fan would be justified in considering the Senators at least an even money bet to win the American league pennant.

However, the latest betting odds on the flag race, furnished by Tom Kearney of St. Louis, install New York an odds-on choice at 3 to 5. Washington is quoted at 6 to 5.

Veteran baseball men figure the Nats have been batting over their heads and that the veteran sluggers of the Yankees will turn on the heat and romp to the front in the stretch drive.

The Giants at 3 to 2 favorites to win the National league pennant, with the Cubs second choice at 2 to 1 and the Pirates a close third at odds of 5 to 2.

The Yanks and Senators will resume hostilities at the capital today with Johnny Allen stacking up against General Alvin Crowder.

The Giants inaugurate a series at home today against the pesky Boston Braves, who have trimmed the league leaders seven times in 11 games this year.

Yesterday the Phils spotted the Braves to a nine-run lead and then nosed them out in an old-fashioned Baker bowl slugfest, 13 to 12. Chuck Klein's double in the tenth, which ended the nightmare, was the 39th hit of the day. Biff Berger poled his 18th homer, tying Klein for the lead in the National league derby.

Wes Schulmerich, ex-Bostonian, again was poison to his former mates, helping tie the score with a triple in the ninth and also belting a homer with two aboard. He is now listed among the league's five leading hitters along with three other Phils—Klein, Davis and Fullis.

In the only other game played, Cleveland smothered Detroit, 7 to 2, behind Oral Hildebrand's steady twirling. "Bad News" Hale drove in three runs.

Lawrence County League Teams Engaged In Second Half Race

There will be four games this afternoon among Lawrence county league teams. The schedule follows: Orrs at Bessemer, Tigers at P. N. A. Volant at Clifton Flats and Mahoning at Monarchs.

Will Play National League Club In Twilight Game In August

Universals today will play the Homestead Grays at Centennial field and on August 9 will oppose the Pittsburgh Pirates, it was announced by Jake Reider. The game at Centennial field will be a twilight game, he stated.

Heroes-Goats In Big League

(International News Service) The hero—Chuck Klein, Phils. His doubles in tenth gave Phils 13 to 12 victory over Braves.

The Goat—Fred Frankhouse, Braves, was knocked out of the box by Phils after having hung up eight straight victories. He was not charged with the defeat, however.

Dr. W. D. Cleland Performs Feat Playing With Service Division

Playing with the New Castle Service Division members against the Sharon Service Division group at the Tam O'Shanter course in Sharon last evening, Dr. W. D. Cleland, achieved the ambition of all golfers, a hole-in-one.

Cleland's shot was made on the No. 2 hole, 180 yards in length. He was playing with Commander-in-Chief John E. White, against G. V. Astrion and H. J. Shillings of Sharon. "Doc" received three big cheers from the local boys for his feat and a membership in the course and a dozen golf balls from the Sharon group.

The local Service Division group again won, their average being 51.30 while Sharon's average was 53.93. John E. Elliott was medalist for the evening with a 40, while Dr. Cleland, and Charles Morrow and Albert Street had 45's. Cecil Phillips was low for Sharon with 43.

Gabby Street Will Get Job

Reports Indicate Deposed Cardinal Manager Will Become Boss Of Cincinnati

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 29.—Word got around today that the faithful, old family retainer Mr. Gabby Street, who was curiously dismissed like one of the scullery help in St. Louis the other day, is to be brought back after a period of probation and rewarded with the job of managing the Cincinnati Reds, effective October 1. Mr. Street is a very nice guy with a countenance that's seamed and lined and comfortable like an old traveling bag and similarly he is not a man who is noted for his bonhomie and light, airy banter. He, therefore, may have been talking from the book when he found himself among friends back in Joplin and began speaking confidentially if vaguely of another "major league job for next year."

Bush Will Go

The job in question happens to be held right now by Donie Bush who pops in and out of the major leagues on alternate years and, therefore, may have another pop coming to him. Besides, St. Louis may feel that it owes Mr. Street a break, though what St. Louis has to do with Cincinnati is something I cannot hope to account for.

The records indicate that very often each has a great deal to do with the other but this, after all may be nothing more than a coincidence and a happen-so, brought about by the exigencies of normal business.

Jack Westland Is Tourney Favorite

(International News Service) MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 29.—Jack Westland of Chicago met Walter Emery of Oklahoma City today in the western amateur golf tournament semi-finals and Rodney Bliss of Omaha faced Carl Dann, Florida state champion. Thirty-six holes were scheduled.

Emery turned what looked like a defeat into victory in his quarter final match to eliminate Leland Hamman of Waco, Tex. At the extra hole after being two down at the seventeenth tee.

Westland, runner-up in the national amateur in 1931, defeated Chastean Harris of Memphis, 3 and 1, in a bitterly contested match. Bliss went to the semi-finals with a 6 and 4 victory over Charles Yates of Atlanta while Dann took Mike Roach of St. Louis out of the running by a 6 and 4 win.

PIRATES TO STOP AT THE CASTLETON

Arrangements have been made by the management of the Pittsburgh baseball team to headquarters at The Castleton hotel on August 9 when the Pirates playing the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing team on Centennial field.

Perhaps we shouldn't blame those price-lifters for wanting to do a little profiteering now. After so much loss-steering.

Baer Returns From Capital Conference On Home Loan Plans

After a three day conference in Washington, D. C., Attorney Wilbur J. Baer, counsel for the Home Loan Corporation in Lawrence County has returned, but announced today that before any definite information could be given out concerning the working of the project here, he would have to attend still another conference in Pittsburgh on Monday.

The workings of the plan are still indefinite in some respects according to Mr. Baer. The heads of the corporation in Washington are working out the details and before August 1 expect to have a working plan ready. This also will probably be subject to minor changes from time to time.

Plan Is Rough
Roughly the Home Loan Corporation will work in Lawrence County about like this. A home owner having a mortgage on his home, and who is in danger of losing his home by foreclosure, makes his application to Mr. Baer. He in turn sends the application to the district office in Pittsburgh.

In that application the mortgagee states that he is in danger of losing his home, that the mortgagee is willing to accept bonds and then proceeds to show the total indebtedness. The board in Pittsburgh considers the application and sends it back to New Castle to M. L. Wallace, Appraiser for the local board. He passes upon the value of the place, setting the value somewhere between what it was worth several years ago and what it would bring at a forced sale now.

Eighty per cent of the appraised value is allowed to be issued in bonds in certain cases (Mr. Baer believes in comparatively few) there will be a cash settlement permitted.

There are a host of questions being asked Mr. Baer at the present time which are being threshed out by the Washington office. Some of the questions which have been asked follow.

"Can a mortgagee discharge his mortgage in cash, if the amount due on his place falls within the percentage of cash allowed?"

"Where a mortgagee is over due on his mortgage, has back taxes and a paying lien due, will be given cash to liquidate the taxes and paying lien, and bonds for the mortgage, the total to be considered a new first mortgage?"

"Is an article of agreement considered in the same light as a first mortgage, and can it be discharged in the same way?"

"Must the usual attorney's fees in placing a mortgage be paid in cash or will the government pay them and add them to the face of the mortgage?"

"Will there be any market for the mortgage bonds issued, and can they be used as collateral?"

"Is the mortgagee's bonds protected by the property which is mortgaged or are they considered a part of the grand total of equities to be assumed over the entire country?"

"Where a fire insurance policy has lapsed on a mortgaged property, and the house is destroyed, does this affect the value of the mortgagee's bonds?"

These are but a few of the questions which are now being solved, the answers to them are expected to be available by August 1. The government guarantees the bonds only as to interest for a period of years and not as to principal.

FEAR CAUSES BOY TO THROW BODY IN RIVER

Sen. Royal Copeland Urges National Law, Death For Kidnapers

By DAVID F. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 29.—A national set of laws imposing the death penalty for kidnaping was advocated Friday by Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, chairman of the U. S. Senate subcommittee investigating racketeering.

Senator Copeland, physician, sociologist and humanitarian, admitted this viewpoint was a right-about-face for him.

"Heretofore I have been against capital punishment," he said, in an interview with International News Service. "But the motherhood of the nation is terrified over the epidemic of kidnaping. Letters from mothers throughout the nation have been pouring into my office asking if something cannot be done about it."

"I am glad Missouri set an example in sentencing Walter McGee to death for the kidnaping of Mary McElroy."

"Congress were voting on a bill, at the present time providing death for kidnapers, it would be passed."

Colonel Franklin S. Hutchinson, of Rochester, director of investigation for the Senatorial Racketeering Inquiry committee, agreed with his chief.

"The death penalty for kidnapers might not stop the big shots of the 'aberrant racket,'" said Copeland.

"But, at least, it would make amateurs think twice before taking part in abductions."

RULES FRAT GIFTS ARE NOT TAXABLE

(International News Service)
DENVER—A college fraternity chapter is an educational organization. The United States board of tax appeals so decided recently in permitting income tax deductions in a case brought against the estate of the late Milton Smith of Denver.

The bureau of internal revenue ruled that contributions made by Smith to fraternity chapters at North Carolina University, Yale and Georgia Tech, totaling $8,686.87 were taxable, declaring such organizations were social rather than educational.

The board of tax appeals, to whom the case was appealed by attorneys for the estate, overruled this contention.
